FRANCE MANAGES WELL
KANSAS DRINK JAKE
SOUTH CAROLINA IODINE

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Syndicate, Inc.)

A WASHINGTON dispatch tells framers that the "Farmers National Grain Corporation," next year will "handle probably half the wheat grown in the United States." Mr.
Huff, head of the corporation, does not advise farmers to hold their wheat for higher prices, but he does believe that prices will be higher. "Hope is the bread of the poor," as the old Green said, and farmers need it.

CONDITIONS are different in France, where the French minister of agriculture advises peasants to sell wheat "at the present high prices."

It will interest American farmers, selling wheat at 60 cents or less, on the farm, that French peasants are getting $1.71 a bushel. France knows how to "stabilize wheat
prices" and relieve the farmer.

Our government bought 69,000,000 bushels of wheat to relieve farmers and the price dropped from well above $1 a bushel to well below 90 cents a bushel.

There is no secret about French wheat prices. They are due to French belief in protection which has been strong ever since the "field of the cloth of gold" where Francis the first wrestled with Henry the eighth.
Flour made or sold in France
must contain at least 90 per cent
French wheat, recently it was 97 per cent.

THOUSANDS OF American citizens have been poisoned and paralyzed by an alcoholic ginger extract called "Jake." That doesn't surprise you.

When the government won't let people have beer, wine, or their old fashioned whiskey, they will drink
other things—varnish, hair tonics,
or a poisonous ginger mixture.

BUT YOU ARE SURPRISED to hear that 1,100 of the paralyzed
"Jake" victims live in Kansas, supposed to be dry by choice.

Collier's Weekly described young Kansas boys and girls drinking the alcoholic ginger "Jake" from innocent looking glasses in drug stores.

The government and people of South Carolina wish you to know that vegetables, fruits,
milk, cream, eggs and other products of that state are rich
in iodine which prevents goiter.
Through its South Carolina
natural resource commission,
the state gives information
about goiter throughout the country.

A LARGE PERCENTAGE of young pigs are "born dead or imperfect and soon die," because the mothers haven't enough iodine in their systems and in another state
"sheep fail to reproduce for lack of iodine."

FARM LANDS in South Carolina
may be had at the lowest prices in many years. The possibilities there are of interest to those that have money to develop land you need money to start.

Liverpool Woman
Hit By Automobile

COLUMBUS, July 28.—Minor injuries were sustained by Mrs.
Charles Gunfauley, 27, of East Liverpool, when she was struck by an automobile as she was crossing
West Broad street at Mill street.
The name of the driver of the auto
was not learned. Mrs. Gunfauley was treated in Mt. Carmel hospital.

THE SALEM NEWS

COUNTY FARMS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Fear Salem Resident May Have Been In Quake

GIRLS' COACH
TOURING ITALY
IN LAST WEEK

Relatives Have No Word
From Other Members
Of Ohio Party

TEMBLOR CHANGES
CITY LOCATIONS

King Decrees Buildings
Must Be Constructed
In Safer Places

Fears that Miss Anna Oelschlager,
girls' athletic director of Salem High school, may have been in the earthquake which last week ravaged southern Italy, were expressed by friends in this city today.

Miss Oelschlager, with a party of nine other Oberlin college graduates, is touring European countries and was in Italy last week. Last word received from the party two days before the earthquake, indicated that the girls were in Venice.

Seven Ohioans, including three Cleveland residents and Miss Oelschlager, are on the trip. They were scheduled to be in Rome and Naples for three days last week and are due in Nice, France, today. According to the itinerary of the trip,
given by Miss Oelschlager to Salem friends, the party was to have been in Genoa Sunday.

No Word From Party
No word has been received from any of the girls since the earthquake but it is believed by sponsors of the tour that they missed the quake by one day, since the schedule of the trip called for their arrival at Naples last Tuesday.

Miss Oelschlager maintained her residence here with Mr. and Mrs.
C. E. Phillips, 250 South Lincoln avenue. She has been director of girls' athletics at Salem High for the past two years, coming here from Medina.

Last weeks disastrous earthquake,
which in some instances obliterated
whole towns, will change the map of Italy to a certain extent.

Of some villages nothing except piles of lumber, stone and mortar dust remains. They will have to be reconstructed, but in the rebuilding
some of the picturesque character of ancient Italian communities
will be sacrificed to safety.

To Rebuild City
For one example there is Melfi.
This city, before the earth heaved
in the early hours last Wednesday, perched prettily upon a volcanic hill. A new Melfi must arise, but it will lie in the valley below, along a river, where tests have proved shocks are less likely to be felt.

King Victor Emmanuel has urged that no reconstruction should be done on territory especially susceptible to shocks, hence all plans are for building where reasonable safety may be expected.

There are no indications that the official figures on the earthquake toll announced Saturday, 2143 dead and 4551 injured, will increase greatly.

WOUND FATAL TO YOUTH SATURDAY

Accidental Discharge Of Gun Results In Death
Of 15-Year-Old Lad

Funeral services are being arranged today for Ellwood Helsel, 15, son of Casper Helsel of Elk-worth, who died at Central Clinic hospital from a bullet wound in his head Saturday night.

The youth is believed by Mahoning county authorities to have been fatally wounded in accidental discharge of a gun.

He was discovered on rear porch
of the home in an unconscious condition by his brother, Lloyd, who with his father, brought him to the Salem hospital.

He was entered in the hospital at 6 p. m. and died at 7:30 without regaining consciousness.

Isaac Lomax, colored, of Salem,
was arrested on charges of assault and battery by Patrolmen Ralph Stoffer and William Reardon Sunday afternoon.

The patrolmen answered a call to a Walnut street residence about 1:15 p. m. Sunday, a report being made that Lomax had attacked
Charles Alexander, also colored.

Lomax was arrested and lodged in city jail. He will be arraigned before Mayor Davidson this afternoon.

Sailor Drowns
TOLEDO, July 28.—A man who drowned in the Maumee river here has been identified by papers in his pocket as Arthur Moore, 43, Pittsburgh, a sailor.

MISS ANNA OELSCHLAGER

200 Attend Ceremonies At Trinity Lutheran Church

Lectonia Pastor Speaker
At Cornerstone
Laying Here

Approximately 200 persons attended ceremonies marking the laying of the cornerstone for the new Holy Trinity English Lutheran church, now under construction at Woodland avenue and East State street, Sunday afternoon.

Rev. H. C. Brillhart, pastor of St.
Paul's Lutheran church of Lectonia,
gave the address during the services which were in charge of Rev.
G. D. Keister, pastor of the Holy Trinity church, and the church
council. Rev. George Royer of Greenford, Rev. S. D. Myers of Alliance and Rev. J. W. Bressler of Niles were present at the occasion.

Rev. Brillhart paid tribute to progress made by the congregation
since its organization in 1917 in his address.

"The work done here is the fruit of spiritual building for which God's laborers have been working forward to for the past 13 years.
Churches are living buildings erected of living stones, Christian men and women, of which Jesus Christ is the corner stone."

Tells of Corner Stone
"The corner stone crowns the foundation and is a symbol of Christ who regulates and governs the church. The mission of all teachers in the Christian church.
The outline of the church is that of the cross, a cross is upon the altar,
a cross is situated on the highest part of the church—all of which instructs us that Christ died on Calvary for the salvation of souls of men."

"The church is not material. It is a communion of saints made up of those who truly believe in Christ as their personal savior. He is our companion in all walks of life.
"Sometimes the cause of Christ

looks dark, "the speaker concluded.
"when we work too close to the operations of the church but we have his promises that the gates of hell
shall not prevail against the church."

In laying the cornerstone for this new edifice this congregation is making a sacred step, one which signifies progress in its work as a religious worker, one which speaks for itself in Christendom."

Rev. H. C. Brillhart, pastor of St.
Paul's Lutheran church of Lectonia,
gave the address during the services which were in charge of Rev.
G. D. Keister, pastor of the Holy Trinity church, and the church
council. Rev. George Royer of Greenford, Rev. S. D. Myers of Alliance and Rev. J. W. Bressler of
Niles were present at the occasion.

Search was under way here today for Howard Green, colored, of Salem, who escaped from his home, 517 Newgard street, when it was raided by police about 10:30 p. m.
Saturday.

Green is reported to have left his home through the rear door when Patrolmen William Reardon and Ralph Stoffer entered a front door in search of liquor.

Two quarts of alleged whiskey
were found at the house, Stoffer reported to Police Chief T. W.
Thompson today.

A charge of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquors will be preferred against Green if he is apprehended by police.

CHARGES DENIED
IN SALEM COURT

George Bradt Enters Plea
Of Not Guilty; Arrested
Saturday Night

George Bradt, Salem, was released on $125 bond for hearing before Mayor J. M. Davidson on two charges preferred against him following his arrest by three Salem
patrolmen Saturday night.

Bradt entered pleas of not guilty to charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and resisting police officers in execution of their duty. Trial was set for 10
a. m. Wednesday on both counts.

The man was arrested at 10:15 p.
m. Saturday by Patrolmen William Reardon, Wilbur Hiddleston and Edward Piller. He is alleged to have resisted efforts of officers to take him under custody.

KIWANIS CLUBS
TO VISIT CAMP

County Groups To Visit Fresh-Air
Project Near Lisbon Tonight;
Dr. Church In Charge

Members of Kiwanis clubs in Columbiana county will conduct an inspection of the county's fresh-air camp for underprivileged and undernourished children, near Lisbon, tonight.

The camp is maintained by Kiwanis clubs of the county. It is in session for six weeks every summer, 25 children attending it this year.

Health Commissioner T. T. Church, member of the Salem club, will be in charge of the inspection. Three other Salem Kiwanians will attend the affair as delegates.

Heavy Frie Loss

GALLIPOLIS, July 28.—As the result of a fire which caused damage estimated by officials at $75,000,
eight buildings including residences
and one store were in ruins at Burfalo, West Va., near here, today.

Driverless Auto
Gives Thrill To
City Pedestrians

Charles Paxson, Salem youth, cranked his automobile, parked on East State street, down in the center of the city's downtown business district, shortly after 11 a. m. today.

That was all right. Cranking automobiles is not a normal
procedure but sometimes batteries go dead.

Charles' automobile gave a dash towards its master, forced him to make a sensational broad jump from its path and the car started out without a driver.

From its parking place the automobile went on along East
State street.

Pedestrians hurriedly dashed under cover into safety and stood aghast as the car proceeded across the thoroughfare and scraped fenders with one machine and crashed into rear sections of another.

From the street the automobile dashed across the sidewalk
and stopped, but not before it had collided with the front of Gus Stamas' shoe repair shop
and damaged wooden framework of the building.

Survey of the car showed that Charles had left it parked while "in gear." On cranking it and starting the engine, the machine did what all other cars
would do under similar circumstances.

CHURCHES FORM
COUNTY GROUP;
16 TAKE PART

Over 1,000 Attend Lisbon
Meeting Sunday; Other
Churches Present

LISBON, July 28.—An association of the Churches of Christ of Columbiana county was formed during a county fellowship meeting Sunday afternoon at the county fair grounds.

There are 16 churches of this denomination in the county. All of these were represented. Delegations were also present from Newell, W.
Va., and Sebring.

Officers for the ensuing year are:
President, John S. Scott, East Liverpool; vice president, T. C. Mc-Clelland, Wellsville; secretary, treasurer, Charles H. Carlisle, Lisbon.

Over 1,000 men and women attended the afternoon meeting,
which was held in the grandstand.
The address of the afternoon was made by Jesse E. Bader, general secretary on evangelism, for the churches of Christ in America.

Mr. Bader also spoke at a vesper service, which began at 6.

A feature of the vesper service was the singing by the Log Cabin quartet, a colored group, of Wells-ville.

Mrs. Emily Grubaugh, of the Hanoverton Christian church, who is 92 years old, was the oldest person at the meeting.

RUMORS FALSE,
CLUB HEAD SAYS

American Motorists Are Not Held
Up At Canadian Border As Reports State

The Columbiana County Motor
club has received many inquiries concerning rumors, which convey the impression that American tourists entering Canada are experiencing difficulty in getting out of the dominion when ready to return home due to being held up by Canadian immigration officers.

Albert P. Morris, who has corresponded with Canadian officials,
states that tourists should not experience trouble or inconvenience,
when travelling in Canada.

While it is a fact that the immigration officers can demand citizenship papers or birth certificates from tourists entering Canada, we have yet to hear of a single person having to do this.

Thousands of cars leave the United States and enter Canada daily, on the Niagara frontier "Never has a report of a single person being detained come to my attention," Morris stated.

The child, standing in a rocking
chair, was swaying back and forth, the chair steadily edging toward a third floor window.

Before the mother could reach the child's side, the screen was knocked from the window and the child hurled to her death on the sidewalk below.

JURORS GATHER
IN LISBON FOR
FIRST REUNION

Attorney General Speaks
At Meeting Held
In County

DEFENDS PRESENT
SYSTEM OF JURIES

Many Other Notables Are Present At First Event
Of Its Kind

LISBON, July 28.—Between 500
and 1,000 men and women attended the first annual reunion of Colum-biana county jurors at the county fair grounds Saturday afternoon,
the event having been sponsored by Assignment Commissioner James G. Stevenson.

Members of the appellate court as well as judges of the common pleas of Columbiana, Jefferson and Stark counties attending. During the afternoon music was furnished by the Salem Veterans of Foreign wars boys band.

Bettman Gives Address
Attorney General Gilbert Bett-
man of Columbus, who made the principal address in the dance pavillion at the county fair grounds arrived at Lisbon shortly after noon, and after mingling for a while with the crowd, left for Cincinnati by motor, which point he expected to reach before midnight.

Mr. Bettman spoke on the subject "Shall the jury be abolished." He stated that juries prevent our court system from becoming over-technical and are of a material advantage to the system.

Other Notables Attend
Former Common Pleas Judge W.
S. Close of Upper Sandusky, now a member of the firm of Squires, Sanders and Dempsey, Cleveland, and who filed a special assignment in Columbiana county in 1922, with Mrs. Close attended the reunion.

Among others who mingled with the crowd were Congressman and Mrs. B. Frank Murphy of Steubenville; State Senator Earl R. Lewis, St. Clairsville; Judge Ernest Van Fossan, formerly of Lisbon, now a member of the United States court of tax appeals; Judge John Pollock of the Seventh District appellate court of St. Clairsville and his co-jurist, Judge Louis T. Farr, of Lisbon; former Probate Judge Bel-nap of Steubenville, now of Columbus, and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Out of the crowd of jurors, 148 registered.

COMEDY DRAMA
AT CHAUTAUQUA

Senator Brookhart Tells
Of Prohibition At Union Services

"The Mollusc," a comedy-drama, will be presented at 8 tonight at the Redpath Chautauqua tent.

Phyllis Mackaye is in the leading role. Others in the cast are Lambert Kaiman, Paul Terhune and Katherine Costin.

At the union service of Salem
churches at the chautauqua tent
Sunday night United States Senator
Smith W. Brookhart discussed
"Prohibition."

Senator Brookhart is an ardent supporter of the 18th amendment.
He is of the opinion that in the larger cities sentiment is turning to favor prohibition as the people realize that conditions are better than under the saloon regime.

At this service Mrs. Calvin Leas-ure, of Salem, sang a solo.

"Cooperative Economics" was the subject of Senator Brookhart's lecture Saturday evening.

He discussed the agricultural condition of the country and explained the banking system. According to Senator Brookhart only the big combined business interests of the country are enjoying prosperity.

The Artist Entertainers composed of Miss LaVonne Field, Hugo Brandt and Paul Clark, gave a delightful program Saturday afternoon and the prelude that evening.

Boys' Band To Take Part In Celebration

The Veteran of Foreign Wars band of Salem will participate in the ceremonies marking the opening of a new Westville North Georgetown road, west of this city,
Wednesday night.

The boys' band will give a concert at Placencia Lake, North Georgetown during the event.
Rehearsal will be held at the post rooms at 6:30 tonight.

Foretold Quake

Picturesque Angelo, one of the characters of Naples, is said to have foretold the recent earthly disturbances which ruined Southern Italy.
Anticipating trouble from Vesuvius, Angelo quaintly said, "Mama is dressing up to go out."

COLUMBIANA CO.
FAIR PREMIUMS
ARE ANNOUNCED

List Now Ready; Rodeo
Will Be Feature Of 1930 Event

LISBON, July 28.—The premium
list for the 31st annual county fair sponsored by the Columbiana County Agricultural society has been issued by Secretary H. E. Marsden.
The county fair this year will be held Sept. 16 to 19th inclusive, and it is possible the night fair will be continued over until Saturday evening, Sept. 20th.

rinted with the premium list is the financial statement of the 1929 fair, which shows receipts to have been $17,985.28 from all sources, and expenditures $17,768.03, with a balance in the hands of the treasurer
at the close of the fiscal year of $217.25. Admission fees at the last county fair totaled $7,059.40.

During the year the society paid $2,000 as a street assessment while class premiums amounted to $4,700
and for the races $2,400 was paid out in premiums.

The Agricultural society shows a membership of 433 which is a decline of 23 from the report of 1929.

Officers of the society are presdent, George A. Rogers, Lisbon;
vice president, J. Howard Sinclair, Hanoverton; secretary, H. E. Marsden, Lisbon; treasurer, J. Ellsworth Rice, Wayne township.

The big feature of the fair this year will be a wild west rodeo, this being the first time that such an attraction has been booked, and also the first time in the history of the society that a night fair has been scheduled.

Stolen Junk Found
In City By Sheriff

Sheriff William J. Barlow and two Beaver county Pa., detectives were in Salem today conducting investigations into theft of mining equipment from the Pennsylvania road.

The sheriff reported that part of stolen equipment has been located in a Salem junk yard and that efforts are being made to locate persons responsible for its sale in this city.

Lisbon Man Absent
From Army; Arrested

LISBON, July 28.—Two days after he was absent without leave from the United States army, John Spangolotta of Lisbon was back in the army again, but, under arrest.

It was the second time John deserted, and the second time that he was picked up by Lisbon police in a local pool room.

LACK OF RAINS
LOWERS YIELDS
IN MANY CROPS

Early Potatoes Hardest
Hit, Weatherman
Says In Report

PASTURE SHORTAGE
IS GROWING ACUTE

Showers Today, Observer
At Sewage Plant
Indicates

Columbiana county crops are in serious condition as a result of the protracted drought and hot weather, according to a report of L. H. Copeland, United States Weather observer at Millport.

Early potatoes in the county are practically ruined with the corn and potato crops in a critical condition, Copeland stated. Pastures are burning out and a feed shortage is facing livestock, he said.

Rainfall throughout the county
averaged 60 of an inch Saturday, Copeland announced. The entire county needs an immediate rainfall of two inches to correct conditions
as an extreme drought has pre-valled for more than a month.

A SUMMER FOOD BUDGET

The American Research foundation has issued a summer food budget, based on current prices, showing how a family of four may eat well this summer on an average expenditure of $13.72 a week. This amount, it holds, will provide the four "with all the nutritious elements necessary to their physical well-being and yielding intriguing menus." The foundation goes on to say that "many staples are from 20 to 40 per cent below the 1929 level, while fresh fruits and vegetables offer chances to trim tidy sums off the food budget."

The budget sets aside $1.32 for vegetables, including cabbage, potatoes, tomatoes, spinach, radishes, beans, peas, celery, asparagus and onions.

Seventy-eight cents are to be expended for fruits, including peaches, apples, pineapples, rhubarb and dried apricots.

For meats, $2.77 is the appropriation. The meats include pork, bacon, lamb chops, ham and beef. The sum of fifty cents is to go for margarine. Canned goods, including soups, tuna fish, figs, salmon and grapefruit take $1.36 more, and dairy products—cream, milk and eggs—are to take $3.50.

For the staples—bread, tea, coffee, cocoa, flour, rice, cereals, gelatin and cheese—the budget sets off $3.28.

These figures, it may be noted, total $13.51, which leaves a balance from the $13.72 budget of 21 cents, which may be expended for sugar, pepper and salt, spices and the like.

There is something fascinating about such food budgets as this one. They possess an element of certainty and sureness which is captivating. The possibility that they may not work out in practice as they do in theory, never seems to have been given consideration. "There you are," the research people as good as say; "we have figured the thing out for you and saved you all the trouble and annoyance of budgeting your food bill. All you have to do is to go ahead and buy the foodstuffs in the quantities necessary and at the prices set out, and the thing is done."

Now there is no question but what, under quantity production, a man may be sustained and kept in health at an expenditure of seventy cents a week. There is notable authority for the statement that people, by quantity purchasing and preparation, can be sustained at a cost of five cents each a day. Mr. Hoover did that, when he fed the starving of Europe, and kept them in better physical condition than those who lived on luxurious fare at same time. This is understandable, but it is somewhat difficult to vision the purchase of a week's supply of fruits for four at present day prices for seventy-eight cents, or a like supply of pork, bacon, lamb chops, ham and beef for $2.77. Granted that it can be done, such foods will have to be spread out mighty thinly. It would be interesting to know how many of the people who figure out these budgets for four feast on "intriguing menus" provided at per capita cost of $3.43 a week.

THE INCOMPLETE ANGLER

The federal government has just found out by long and costly experiment some things about trout which any fisherman could have told in about 10 minutes.

Any angler knows that there is no other creature with an appetite more unreliable and finicky than that of the trout. Today he may be voracious, snapping up almost anything that drops to the surface of his stream. Tomorrow he may ignore the most delectable tidbits.

This perversity is one of the things that makes trout fishing the king of piscatorial pursuits. Trout frequent small streams of clear water where they can be easily seen. Were they to seize every bait that is offered them, their pursuit would be no more thrilling than the catching of gold fish from a glass bowl.

When one, however, may cast a fly before a trout without awakening a response or, as Coolidge was wont to do, lower a plump and enticing worm within his view without stirring the suggestion that it is dinner time, the element of chance which is the thing which makes sport entrancing enters into the proceeding.

A great increase in trout fishing throughout the country has spurred the government to stock all available streams and hatcheries that are operating at capacity.

Employees, naturally enough, cannot catch flies and worms for their fingerling trout and ingenuity of the best ichthyologists has been taxed to provide a menu on which trout will grow fat and happy and completely suitable for an angler's lure. At last they have arrived at a feeding schedule which combines the necessary calories with those qualities which appeal to a trout's appetite.

The menu includes beef liver, beef heart, pig and sheep liver, shrimp meal, dried milk, wheat middlings and bean meal. Very young fish receive only the meat portion of the diet but as they grow older, the less expensive dry food is added.

It is all a costly proposition. To raise a pound of trout to maturity on such a diet doubtless costs more than the market value of a pound of fish but sportsmen do not measure values this way. The call of the outdoors and the thrill which comes when a crafty fish has taken the lure cannot be figured in pounds of beef liver or sacks of bean meal.

Senator John L. Blaine, of Wisconsin, has introduced a resolution asking the state department to settle the trouble in India. If it succeeds, it might try its hands at dissolving the sunspots.

BREAKING THE LAW

One of the features of prohibition enforcement that has been largely responsible for the disrepute into which it has fallen has been the practice of breaking other laws to bring about the punishment of violators. Too frequently, this official law-breaking has resulted disastrously for innocent persons.

In this category falls the practice of government rum-chasers of plying the sea and inland waterways at night without running lights. That this is in vogue is amply shown by the recent sinking of a small pleasure craft in the Delaware river, in which incident an entire family was thrown into the water and narrowly escaped death. The government vessel involved, according to witnesses, was the statement of an officer, was running without lights on this occasion.

In addition, scores of complaints are pouring in from individuals and shipping interests, citing incidents of narrow escape. Rep. Robert H. Clancy, of Michigan, has officially called attention to conditions on the Detroit river and Great Lakes where, he asserts, it is common practice for federal raft to be in shipping lanes, without lights and to patrol their districts in the same manner.

It should not require a major catastrophe to put an end to what is palpably a dangerous situation. The government officials responsible are gambling the capture of a few rum runners against the lives of innocent citizens, an all too familiar spectacle in the enforcement of the liquor laws. The prohibition laws are important, but not so important as the lives of the citizens. A solution of other laws designed to protect the rights and privileges of citizens is justified to enforce them.—Columbus Dispatch.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Courses of Seasickness
Are you one of those unfortunate persons who suffer from seasickness? Do you miss out on the pleasure of any trip you make take because of the disagreeable symptoms from which you suffer?

Seasickness is rather common. Some persons experience the same sensations while riding on a train or car, in an elevator, or on a merry-go-round. Nausea and vomiting are the most marked of the symptoms.

Headache is common. Abnormal increase of appetite may be the first sign, though loss of appetite is more usual. Often there is pain in the back of the neck, sometimes soreness of the back and pains in the arms and legs. Flashes of heat and chilliness are sometimes complained of by sensitive persons. The sufferer falls into a state of despondency and even despair.

Many theories are held as to the cause of seasickness. Age seems to have some influence as very young children are seldom affected. It is odd that the lower animals differ in their reactions: dogs, horses, cows, sheep and chickens have been affected, but hogs, ducks and geese, as a rule do not suffer.

Probably most cases of seasickness are aggravated by the fatigue of the traveler, by excitement, improper diet, and by constipation. It may be brought on by disturbance of the vision, due to constant motion of the surroundings. But the opinion is commonly held that seasickness is caused by irritation of the "semi-circular canals," parts of the ear.

The semi-circular canals are hollow tubes associated with the hearing apparatus. They function in the same way as does a spirit level. No matter in what direction the head is turned or tilted, the brain receives the news by the movements of the fluid in these canals. On shipboard your head bobs and jerks about, and the semi-circular canals go on the warpath. Then you become sick and dizzy.

To avoid trouble, it is advisable to take certain precautions in advance of sailing. You should be as rested as possible. Be sure the intestinal canal is cleared out and avoid constipation while on board.

If you are especially susceptible to seasickness, go to bed immediately. If you are able to stay up, spend the greater part of the time on deck, lying quietly in a chair, with the head steady against the chair back.

For the first day or two take light, easily digested food. Avoid excessive drinking of liquids.

There are a number of remedies of more or less value in preventing seasickness. Your doctor will advise you about this.

Answers to Health Queries
Mrs. A. J. D. Q.—Would a blow on the forehead cause boils? Would too much candy be apt to cause these disturbances?

A.—No. It is more than likely that the excessive sweets are responsible for these blemishes. Correct the diet and keep the system clear.

P. S. T. Q.—What causes dizziness when I rise?

A.—Dizziness may be due to a circulatory disturbance, to an eye or ear condition, or to some intestinal disturbance. An examination will determine the exact cause and then definite treatment can be prescribed.

L. F. Q.—What causes headaches?

2.—What do you advise for falling hair?

A.—The common causes of headache are eye strain, infected teeth, tonsils and sinuses, constipation, indigestion, auto-intoxication, high blood pressure, kidney conditions or catarrh.

2.—I would suggest shampooing every week with a good pure soap and warm water and the use of a stimulating ointment.

P. G. Q.—What is the correct weight for a girl aged 20, 5 ft. 2 in. tall?

2.—What causes granulated eyelids?

A.—For her age and height she should weigh about 119 pounds.

2.—This condition is due to infection. Bathe with a mild solution of warm boracic acid several times a day and apply 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury ointment at night. However, have the eyes tested to see if glasses are needed.

B. W. Q.—Is it advisable to take mild laxatives or other medication continually?

2.—What diet would you suggest in the case of a woman of 49 years of age suffering with high blood pressure?

A.—It is never wise to take medication of any kind over a length of time unless such medication has been prescribed for your particular case.

2.—As a rule red meats, eggs and excessive salt are prohibited. Each case is different, however, and should have specific advice and attention.

B. M. J. Q.—What causes the finger nails and lips to turn blue?

2.—What can be used to purify the blood?

3.—What should a woman of 27, 5 ft. 4 in. tall, weigh?

A.—This may be due to heart trouble. Have an examination so that definite advice may be outlined.

2.—If the general health is good it will not be necessary to take anything to clear the blood. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

3.—You should weigh about 132 pounds.

Tuesday, July 29

A fairly successful and prosperous day is the forecast made from the lunar transit in ascendency on this day. The strongest augury is for new undertakings and for plans in connection with large corporations or secret bodies, or wherever shrewdness, diplomacy and subtlety enter as determining factors. Those in employment are likely to encounter small anxieties.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fairly successful year with new plans and projects or in all manner of negotiations calling for subtle intriguing and cunning manipulation or agreements. Employment may give a small measure of concern. A child born on this day may be inclined to secretive and subtle ways of managing its affairs, and may incline to curious or mysterious research. It may succeed better with secret bodies or "mergers" in regular employment.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Fingers as fork substitutes are almost completely out of style. There was a time when it was considered quite good form to pick up asparagus with the fingers, and gently bite one's way from tip to end to as tender a part of the stem as the teeth could squeeze.

Now that is less than perfect etiquette. One can do it without risking social ostracism, but it's more the custom of using the fork exclusively. Which puts half the responsibility on the hostess. Asparagus should be prepared in such a way that only the tender, edible lengths are served—the several inches from the tip end that can be cut conveniently with a fork.

Artichokes, however, still remain finger food, and it would take a genius to devise a way of eating the whole vegetable otherwise. True, the hearts require fork service alone, and if one wishes to serve artichokes in the most elegant fashion, then only the hearts and not the attractive whole vegetable will be served.

Olives and radishes have to be eaten with the fingers—unless they are served other than as natural. If the sight of food eaten primitively with the fingers is not wholly agreeable to the sensitive hostess, then she can serve these vegetables sliced either flat or in a curl. This means more work in the kitchen—an arduous obligation to the higher etiquette.

Strawberries, which always have been regarded as something to be spooned out of a dessert plate (at least in the East) are really tastier served with their stems and eaten with the fingers. They have to be washed, drained and chilled, then piled into individual dessert plates, perhaps accompanied by an individual service of powdered sugar.

One picks them up by the stem, dips them lightly in the sugar, and then pulls the berry off the stem with the teeth. Simple, and can be done with elegance.

Corn, like artichokes, remain the obstacle to immaculate dining. There's only one way to eat green corn with any pleasure—grasp both ends firmly with three or four fingers, apiece and bite away. Nobody can make an aesthetic spectacle out of this performance, and if there are bystanders to whom it gives pain, then it were better to eat green corn in private, than to serve the kernels cut off the stem so one can eat them with a spoon—as corn pudding or corn soufflé.

ORGANIZATION RAPS SOVIETS

Labor Group Seeks Bans On Commerce With Communists

NEW YORK, July 28.—Exclusion of all goods from Russia is sought by America's Wage Earners' Protective conference, an organization headed by Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

The organization desires a general embargo in effect Jan. 1, 1932, when the provision of the new tariff act extending restrictions on goods produced by convict, forced or indentured labor from manufacturers to all products and raw materials become operative. Pending the general embargo the conference seeks exclusion of Russian goods which might come under the classification of dumping.

Contending that "the entire Soviet economic system is based wholly or in part upon convict, forced or indentured labor," Woll said: "To permit the industrial and agricultural products of such a system to come into a country where labor is free, where the standard of living is high and where the principle of high wages has been generally accepted, is to undermine the very foundations of the American economic and social scheme."

"This movement we have launched for a general embargo on trade with Soviet Russia is as much for the benefit of our Russian fellow-workers as of ourselves. For as long as the Communist rulers of Soviet Russia can continue their present program of Utopian, artificial, forced industrialization by receiving the aid of foreign capitalists ready to trade with them for the sake of their own private profit, the Russian workers will find it difficult to free themselves from the tyranny of Communist dictatorship."

DEATHS

MRS. TRYCHENA HILLMAN

Mrs. Trychena Hillman, 60, died Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Teet, 361 Summit street, Leetonia, from complications.

Mrs. Hillman was born April 3, 1870, at West Nelson, Yorkshire, England, and came to Leetonia in 1882, where she resided until her death. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Leetonia.

She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Mary Teet, and one brother, Joseph Lenecker, Cleveland.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Crowell & Woods funeral parlors. Dr. H. C. Brillhart will be in charge. Interment in Oakdale cemetery.

Hay Fever Yields to Doctor's Discovery

Indianapolis—What is regarded as an amazing advance in medical science is the discovery of the actual cause of Hay Fever and Asthma by the well-known Dr. Fugate. He found the cause of these ailments originates from an unbalanced condition of the endocrine glands. After finding the cause he perfected an effective treatment that has already been used in thousands of cases, and the reports of immediate relief indicate that at last help for Hay Fever and Asthma has been found. An important booklet telling in detail about his discovery and treatment has been published by The Fugate Co., Dept. 624, 125 South Meridian st., Indianapolis, who offer to send it free. Those troubled with Hay Fever or Asthma should write at once.—Adv.

ALIMONY CLUB ASKS CHARTER

Women Get Too Much From Men In Court Action; Claim; Seek New Laws On Subject

CHICAGO, July 28.—Three Chicagoans who have either been cited in court or committed to jail for failure to pay alimony, today sought incorporation of the Alimony club of America.

The articles of incorporation of the club sent to Springfield for filing with the secretary of state, limit membership to men who are divorced, have been sued for divorce or are suing for divorce.

Among others, the articles set out the following purposes:

"To obtain more deliberate action in divorce cases and a more just and equitable adjustment.

"To protect men and society generally against the so-called modern woman, who considers marriage a mere step incident to a suit for divorce that she may engage in the business of collecting alimony."

The incorporators are Oswald Mackie, John Murray and Philip Collins. Mackie has pending in the state and federal courts an alimony appeal charging that commitment to jail for failure to pay alimony is in violation of the federal constitution.

MRS. FERGUSON LEADS IN TEXAS

Wife Of Former Governor Far Out In Front As Tally Nears End

DALLAS, TEXAS, July 28.—Partisans of two Democratic gubernatorial candidates today forecast one of the most bitter political campaigns in Texas history as tabulation of Saturday's primary vote virtually assured a run-off between Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson, Texas' only woman governor, and Ross S. Sterling of Houston.

Sterling is chairman of the state highway commission through appointment by Gov. Dan Moody, arch-enemy of the Fergusons.

The latest tabulation of the election bureau gave Mrs. Ferguson 197,375, and Sterling 141,283. The vote for the wife of James E. Ferguson, barred from the race by his impeachment as chief executive, was expected to reach 225,000.

Running for vindication of the family name after her husband had been impeached, Mrs. Ferguson rode into office on an anti-Ku Klux Klan campaign in 1924. Gov. Moody, then attorney general, uncovered alleged irregularities in the highway department and defeated her for re-nomination by a tremendous majority.

Sterling, a Houston multi-millionaire publisher who organized the Humble Oil company, has promised the state a business administration.

Gov. Moody and State Senator Thomas B. Love, Hoover-Democrat and defeated gubernatorial candidate, had promised their support to Sterling.

Probate Court Activities

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle has placed the bond of $10,000 for the executrix of the estate of the late J. W. Bennage of Signal. Katherine Bennage has been given the appointment as executrix. This estate will be appraised by Cyrus Newhouse, Charles and Jeff Dickey.

Anna B. Dillon has been appointed executrix in the estate of the late Ross Dillon of Fairfield township. Appraisers of the estate will be Olaf Todd, Herbert C. Nolan and Henry Stanley. The executrix will not be required to give bond in this matter.

In the settlement of the estate of the late David Rankin of Leetonia, John A. Rankin and John A. Woodward have been appointed executors, and they will serve without bond. Estate appraisers appointed by the court are W. W. Long, George Weidmeyer and C. E. Greenameyer.

The will of the late Peter Naylor of St. Clair township has been filed for probate.

Wife Asks For Divorce
Verne Jackson, residing with his father Thomas Jackson, Second street, East Liverpool objected to his wife Nellie Jackson purchasing a home in Houston's addition East Liverpool and abused her for so doing, according to a divorce petition filed against Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson did purchase a home on a land contract, the petition related and she has paid for property through her own efforts.

Mrs. Jackson has also set up that her husband lost his employment Nov. 13, 1920 and that she continued to work. She has further declared that Jackson is guilty of infidelity and gross neglect of duty.

The petition asks the court to set off the dower interest of Jackson in her property as alimony and also a decree. There are no children.

Grocer Resists; Shot By Bandit Ends Life

CHICAGO, July 28.—"This is what you get for resisting," said a robber to Samuel Esserman, 45-year-old grocer last night.

"This" was a bullet that killed him.

From the till and from two customers who saw the slaying, the robber and a companion got less than $25.

Accidentally Killed

BABY TANGLE MAY BE AIRED IN COURTS

Suit Against Hospital And Requests For Return Of Child Will Be Made; One Infant Has Been Baptized In Catholic Church

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 28.—The Watkins Bamberger baby tangle which has been bounced from the laps of obstetricians, department of health, finger print experts, bone blood and baby specialists, a maternal mass meeting and even the law, lay cradled today in the bassinets of the church. Still it did not rest.

The infant in the possession of the Charles Bambergers was baptized George Edward Bamberger at the church of Our Lady of Solace yesterday.

The William Watkins, who are Presbyterians and who believe the baby baptized a Bamberger is really their own offspring, today sought the advice of a clergyman of their own faith with a view to having the child in their possession baptized without application of a name.

Go's Into Court
The Watkins' attorney, Barratt O'Hara, was getting ready to ask a writ of habeas corpus to compel the Bambergers to produce their baby in court and show cause why they should not surrender it. In such an action, it was explained, the matter would be placed before the court which would make a final decision as to whom the infant belonged.

The attorney also was instructed to bring suit for $100,000 damages against the Englewood hospital where the Bamberger and Watkins babies were born June 30. Bamberger, on the other hand, has announced that everything is settled, that he is satisfied he has his own infant and that no legal action of any kind is contemplated.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins expressed no concern over the fact that the baby they believe to be their own was christened a Bamberger.

"When we get the baby traded arranged," we'll have him rebaptized into our faith," they said.

Specialists Give Ideas
Representatives of leading hospitals and several prominent baby specialists were asked yesterday if in their opinion a mother would recognize her new born babe. The replies, with one exception, were in the affirmative: that a mother could recognize her baby unmistakably after having seen it once or twice.

Dr. C. D. Paddock and Dr. H. H. Gibson, obstetricians, and Dr. S. L. Hadden of Oak Park hospital, all agreed she could, but Miss J. F. Christie, superintendent of Chicago lying-in hospital, said she would not care to say a mother would know her child on second or third encounter.

FARM NOTES

Items of Interest Taken from Ohio Rural Districts

(By The Associated Press)

The milk market is likely to be unsettled this fall and winter, according to a bulletin released today by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation here. A shortage of hay and other forage crops, according to the bulletin, and possibly a corn will make farmers feel that higher prices are necessary, and hence the consumers feel that other prices will be lower. Milk prices thus should trend downward. The so-called surplus milk situation adds another uncertainty, the bulletin says.

The Chicago price for butterfat has increased from 31 cents to 36 cents, the bulletin says, under the stimulation of dry weather. Some creamery men feel that in view of the large accumulations of butter in storage, these increases in the Chicago base butterfat price are not justified. But the butter speculators and other buyers are paying such prices, according to the bulletin, so that dairymen can hope only that reactions in prices may not be severe.

Butterfat Is Basis

Milk prices are usually based on the prices paid for butterfat because if butterfat becomes high in price, farmers will turn from selling fluid milk and will sell fluid cream instead. The bulletin says that in this way the quantity of milk will be reduced and the price will be raised in order to increase the supply of fluid milk. The increases in butterfat prices, according to the bulletin, are encouraging to dairymen who sell whole or fluid milk for city delivery.

Consumers, the bulletin says, in thinking of milk prices, easily overlook the fact of our sanitary requirements in the production of milk. A dairymen cannot sell milk for city delivery until his barns and stables have been inspected and passed. For most cities the herds must be officially pronounced free from tuberculosis.

The supply of city fluid milk cannot be increased as rapidly as formerly because of these requirements. The general farmer who can sell cream will not make the added outlays of money necessary to meet the expenses of sanitation until there arises a marked increase in the returns from selling milk over selling cream.

Prices Are Lower

Prices paid to a dairymen for whole milk are somewhat lower than at the peak a year ago, but the declines have not been large, according to the bulletin, and in no instances more than a fraction of the declines in butter prices.

Prices are almost entirely a matter of the balance between supply and demand, according to the bulletin, so that some commodities may even increase in price while most commodities may be in a period of declining price. The milk price situation is influenced by the general attitude of the public to reduce purchases of the higher priced commodities, but generally speaking, milk prices will decline if the demand falls off in relation to the supply or if the supply increases in relation to the demand.

Milk for condensing and for the preparing of milk powder and for other manufacturing purposes has declined very severely in price. This milk, the bulletin says, may come from herds not subject to all the technical requirements as to sanitation. Some students of milk market economics feel that prices for this grade of milk were too high last fall and as a result many farmers were led to buy cows in excess of real demand.

The bulletin says there seems to be no question but that farmers should sell the unprofitable cows and not yield to the temptation to purchase anything but the best, even if average cows are offered at low prices. A continued production of surplus milk for manufacturing is certain to cause an ultimate decline in the wholesale price for fluid milk, according to the bulletin.

Studebaker's epochal contribution to motoring—the sensation of 1930!

WHAT is Free Wheeling?

Free Wheeling is the second milestone in automobile development.

You shift from high to second, back and forth, at 40—50 miles an hour, and never touch the clutch.

The first was the electric starter in 1912.

Free Wheeling with positive control, pioneered by Studebaker in 1930—is an exclusive Studebaker feature, manufactured under Studebaker patents, available only in the new President and Commander Eights.

You need use the clutch only to start or back up.

Due to Free Wheeling with positive control, you can shift from high to second, back and forth, at 40—50 miles an hour, and never touch the clutch. You need use the clutch only to start or back up.

You save 12 per cent on gasoline, 20 per cent on oil—guaranteed—in less than five minutes. And you get the benefit of momentum automatically. When your car has gone 10,000 miles your engine has "worked" only 8,000 miles.

You save 12 per cent on gasoline, 20 per cent on oil—even more in heavy traffic.

There is nothing new to learn—Free Wheeling with positive control is simplicity itself. You drive just as you do in a conventional car.

Afford one!

Why... our General Electric Refrigerator
 saves us money every day!"

AFFORD one! Ask any friend who has bought one. General Electric Refrigerators actually save money. They run at a cost of a few cents a day. The efficiency of the Monitor Top, with its hermetically sealed mechanism, sees to that.

And your milk, meat, fruit and vegetables that would spoil in a temperature less cold, are kept fresh and wholesome. So you save there, too!

If you are thinking of expense—buy the refrigerator with the Monitor Top.

MOVIES

"MURDER WILL OUT"

At The Grand

The action in "Murder Will Out," First National and Vitaphone production which is booked for a two-day run at the Grand theater beginning tonight starts in a bachelor apartment and has an exclusive club, a deserted highway, a Chinese pagoda on an elaborate country estate, a police detective bureau, a doctor's office, a cemetery at midnight, a United States weather bureau, a morgue, New York harbor and the interior of a submarine as its locales.

"Murder Will Out," which is an adaptation of "The Purple Hieroglyph" by Murray Leinster, satirizes the many melodramatic murder mysteries that have recently found their way to the talking screen. At the same time it manages to retain the punch and breathless suspense that have made mysteries popular with the movie-going public.

The picture boasts an unusually capable cast of well-known players, including Jack Mulhall, Lila Lee, Noah Berry, Malcolm MacGregor, Tully Marshall, Claud Allister, Hedda Hopper and Alec B. Francis.

CARD GAME ENDS IN FATAL SHOT

CANTON, July 28—A homicide charge was placed against Rueben Jones, 50, Sunday after he had walked into police headquarters, laid a .38 caliber revolver on the counter and announced to acting Desk Sergeant Park Beazle that he had "just shot a man."

Police who investigated found his victim, Lindsey Spence, 50, dead in a pool room in the southeast section of the city.

Jones and Spence had been taking part in a game of "black jack" in the pool room and an argument started over a $2 "pot."

Coroner T. C. McQuate who investigated the murder with Sergeant Joseph Pence and a squad of police, reported that witnesses told versions of the shooting that showed Spence to have been the aggressor in the fight.

It ended when Jones whipped out his revolver and fired three times.
